

Now come the parties, Respondent-Appellant Judge Donald L. Ramsey (“Appellant”) and Relator-Appellee Daniel J. Sullivan (“Appellee”), by and through their respective counsel, and—pursuant to S.Ct. Rule XIV(3)(B)(2)—hereby stipulate and agree that Appellee shall have a twenty-day extension of time in which to file his merit brief in this matter. As a result, Appellee’s merit brief, which would otherwise be due for filing no later than Sunday, September 6, 2009, is now due Saturday, September 26, 2009. Pursuant to S.Ct. Rule XIV(3)(A) (computation of time), the parties acknowledge and agree that this agreed extension of time permits Appellee to file his merit brief with this Court no later than Monday, September 28, 2009.

Respectfully submitted,
