Re: Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association v. Kevin T. McFaul, case No. 2008-1203

Dear Mr. McFaul:

On December 3, 2008, the Supreme Court of Ohio suspended you from the practice of law for a period of two years, the suspension was stayed, and you were placed on monitored probation for a period of five years. The court further ordered relator to file a report at the end of your probationary period stating whether you complied with the conditions of probation and monitoring.

On December 6, 2013, you filed an Application for Termination of Probation. The Supreme Court of Ohio has informed the clerk's office that it will not consider an attorney's application for termination of probation until the court's orders and Rules for the Government of the Bar of Ohio have been fully complied with and the requirements for termination of probation have been met. Although the relator filed a notice of appointment of monitoring attorney on December 22, 2008, as of the date of this letter, the relator has not filed its report with the court. The court will not consider your termination of probation until such time as relator files this report with the clerk's office of the Supreme Court.
